ANGLO-AMERICANS TAKE FIRM STAND

Russian Lieutenant Found

BERLIN, April 5.—(INS)—
Soviet authorities backed down
from their new traffic regulations today in the face of a firm Anglo-American stand.

British authorities announced
that the Russians have released British canal boats without the documents they originally requested, and that, accordingly,
inland water transportation
from the western zones will now be renewed. It was suspended Friday.

Release Craft
The release of the British craft
was the latest in a series of conciliatory Soviet gestures that began Sunday morning.

Tension was eased in the former German capital, as fears that Russia intended to oust the Western Allies from the city were temporarily allayed.

British Military Commander
Gen. Sir Brian Robertson arrived in Berlin by train after crossing the Soviet-Marionborn check-point
without incident.

Highlighting Soviet moves were messages to the three Western powers offering to meet with each and "talk over" the new Soviet traffic regulations which precipitated the crisis.

The Russian note hinted that
"difficulties" in the shipment of "strictly military freight and personnel" might be solved.

The British, in reply, suggested

Two Meet Death In Plane Crash

CONNEAUTVILLE, Pa., April 5.
—(INS)—An air instructor and a student pilot were dead today after their plane plunged to the ground
following a collision with another small training craft Sunday.

The second plane, its propeller sheared off in the crash, landed safely in an open field about a mile from where the first ship smashed
into a tree.

The victims were identified as Arden E. Meredith, 26, of Meadville, former army pilot and air instructor, and Francis T. Myers, 20, of Cambridge Springs, a student flier.

The pilot of the ship that landed safely, Fred C. Byham, said he was flying at about 2,000 feet when the other ship came up from below and clipped his wing, tearing off the propeller.

M'Arthur Aides Claim Landslide

Backers Claim General 'Doug' Will Take Most Of Delegates Tuesday

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—
(INS)—Wisconsin citizens will vote tomorrow in the state presidential primary and before midnight the nation will know what Gen. Douglas MacArthur can do in the political wars.

He has two worthy opponents in
Gov. Dewey of New York and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota. Both are veteran campaigners who know their politics and who won't be whipped
without a fight.

MacArthur supporters can see nothing but a landslide for the Japanese occupation commander.
Dewey and Stassen have been able to make personal appeals for votes.
MacArthur has had to be satisfied with what few statements he sent from Tokyo and the spade work done by his strategists.

Claim Huge Majority

MacArthur leaders are predicting he will win a substantial majority of the delegates to the National Republican Convention in Philadelphia June 21. They say he will take 16 to 20 delegates. The more optimistic backers are predicting 24 to 27 for him.

All three factions have complete slates of 27 delegate-candidates entered, two in each of 10
districts and seven at large.

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Comptroller General Lindsay Warren revealed today to have ordered
a "complete re-audit" of six billion dollars paid to railroads for wartime transportation of military supplies.

The decision to undertake the gigantic task, which may take a year or more to complete, was reached after a test audit disclosed that at least one hundred million dollars in "overpayments"
was recoverable by the government.

The action was taken at the ur-

Relief Rolls Up Four Per

Survey Reveals

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—
A year-end report on Pennsylvania's relief activities showed today that $103,404,000 was spent to underwrite the program.

The State Department of Public Assistance reported that $87,026-000 was contributed by the state while $36,378,000 was paid by the federal government as its share of old age assistance and aid to dependent children costs.

Relief rolls were up four per cent over 1946.

The department administered aid for an average of 300,000 indigent during the year on general assistance, blind pension, old age assistance and aid to dependent children rolls. The average monthly payment for each person was $25.20.

During the week ended March 27, the DPA reported, there were 307,829 persons dependent upon state relief, a decline of 440 persons from the previous week.

Arab-Jew Battle Rages At Castel

Arab Guerrillas Launch Two

By BENN FELLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

JERUSALEM, April 5.—(INS)—
Arab guerrilla chieftain Fawzi-
El-Kawukji launched two major results against Jewish settlements
in northern Palestine today and Haganah sources claimed 40 Arabs
were killed in one of the clashes.

A third large-scale Arab-Jewish battle is taking place at Castel,
five miles west of Jerusalem,
where Arabs under the leadership of Abdul Kader Hussein are attempting to oust Jewish troops
from the hillside village.

While fighting raged throughout the Holy Land, a Jewish Agency spokesman in Tel Aviv, commenting on the proposed truce
said, "Partition is a fact. The clock cannot be withdrawn."

First By Fawzi's

The two-pronged attack by Fawzi's army of Iraqi, Syrian and Transjordanian tribesmen resulted in the first time the legendary Arab chieftain has ventured out of his "terror triangle."

This is within the towns of Nablus, Tulkarm and Jenin.

One of the battles, at Yahiam, is still in progress, with both sides
admittedly suffering casualties.

The other engagement took place outside the Jewish settlement of the hillside village.

Junior Division Over In Y Drive

Boys' divisions in the Y.M.C.A.
membership drive have exceeded
their goals, unofficial reports revealed today.

However, it was pointed out that the senior groups still have many outstanding cards and a clear picture of the entire campaign will not be known until the middle of the week.

Everything points to a most successful completion of the effort, said S. Glenn McCracken, chairman, today. "The junior teams have topped their quota and it looks as though the entire campaign will exceed the goal of 1,200
members."

Tabulation of the cards is now
in progress and figures will be made public within the next two days. Winners in the various divisions will also be announced.

Drive Secretary David Gatrall
stated that the final reports were made Saturday and are still coming in. Time is needed to count the cards and the membership fees
and arrive at a grand total.

Russia Blocks Further Talks On Atom Control

See Suspension Of Discussion Unless Soviet Re-

promise

UP TO THE SOVIETS TO CONTINUE TALKS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 5.
—A suspension of United Nations
discussions on atomic control appears certain today unless Russia
executes an about-face and agrees to a compromise.

At this morning's council meeting at Lake Success, the nine non-Soviet members of the atomic energy commission intend to vote for a temporary withholding of discussions unless agreement can be reached with the Soviets.

On still another controversial issue between east and west—the Palestine problem—talks will take place at the Manhattan offices of the American delegation this afternoon.

The eleven members of the security council have been invited to the U. S. offices to exchange ideas on the proposed trusteeship for the Holy Land, the chances for a Jewish-Arab truce, and the future of partition.

Still In Question

The attendance of Soviet Delegation Andrei Gromyko is still in question. He has vigorously attacked the United States for dropping partition and has announced
his opposition to the interim trusteeship.

The security council is slated to resume efforts tomorrow to appoint a sub-committee for investigation of Chile's charges that Russia threatened peace in supporting the recent Communist coup in Prague.

Russian resistance to such a decision is certain to grow intensive,
particularly since the sub-commission would be asked to hear six or more escaped Czech officials who were witnesses of Soviet intervention in the Prague coup.

Mayor Haven Asks Cancer Support

Citizens of New Castle were urged by Mayor John F. Haven today to co-operate wholeheartedly
in the fund drive which is being conducted throughout April by the Pennsylvania division, American Cancer society and its Lawrence county unit.

Mayor Haven made his appeal
in a proclamation designating April as cancer control month,
which he signed at a City Hall
ceremony attended by local leaders of the fight against cancer.

Pointing out that cancer killed
15,000 persons in Pennsylvania
last year alone, the proclamation noted that one of every three deaths from this disease could be avoided through early detection
and prompt treatment.

Attorney J. Glenn Berry and Mrs. Blake H. Waldo, campaign
co-chairman, explained that money raised during the campaign will be used to fight cancer with education, service and research.

"Our highest job," they declared,
"is to make everyone aware of the life-and-death importance of recognizing promptly on cancer's danger signals, so that this needless loss of life can be ended."

Mrs. John M. McIlwraith, county captain of the Lawrence county unit, welcomed the signing of the proclamation.

NEW WILMINGTON, April 5.—
Imagine if you can that Old Main

Park is Fairmount Park and that the Student Union building is Benny the Bum's night club and New Wilmington of today becomes Phil-

In both cases it's the eve of the Republican convention for Tuesday night at 8 o'clock Westminster's Republican mock convention opens
in the college gymnasium.

Classes are running a poor sec-

paign managers are busy making their last minute repairs in their

ing the relative merits of their favorites and an air of political excitement has replaced the usual
academic placidity of the boro.

nated in Westminster some years

the genuine article. The difference in interest is merely one of degree,

MINERS-OPERATORS ORDERED TO PARLEY

"Out All Summer If Necessary" Say Miners, Demanding Pension
Plan

By JIMMY JORDAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—
It was just another Monday
to John L. Lewis' striking miners — another Monday
that they were either "unable or unwilling to work."

As late as noon today none
of Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners had shown any inclination of returning to the pits, and this despite a federal court order directing Lewis to call them back.

This was served at 11:22
a. m.

All Out
From southern Illinois to Alabama, and from Utah to Pennsylvania, the reports were all the same. The miners apparently are determined to remain out until they receive word directly from their United Mine Workers chief.

Adolph Pacifico, president of district 6, said that he definitely
would not order his 10,000 miners,
employed in eastern Ohio pits,
back.

As one of his miners put it:
"We'll remain out all summer if necessary to get the pension."

This gave rise to speculation that the miners might not return even if ordered to do so by Lewis.

Meanwhile entire industry
awaited the effect of the federal
"stop-strike" injunction designed to halt the three-week old walkout.

Reynolds Leaves Tokyo For U.S.

TOKYO, April 5.—(INS)—Milton Reynolds and his crew took off from Tokyo tonight for the United States, leaving behind a raging controversy over their abandonment of an aerial mountain exploration and their "escape" from Shanghai.

The Chicago manufacturer and his party left Haneda airdrome at 8:47 p. m. about 24 hours after they had landed unexpectedly at the same field last night from China in their big plane "Explorer."

A few hours earlier American army officers granted clearance to the Reynolds group, despite its unauthorized flight from Shanghai to Tokyo. The authorities ignored a Chinese demand that Reynolds and his crew be ordered back to Shanghai.

With Pilot Bill Odom at the controls, the "Explorer" was scheduled to stop at Midway, then at Honolulu, where Reynolds' wife, daughter and two grandchildren are to board the plane for the rest of the return trip to America.

Before leaving Tokyo the Chicago millionaire said his abortive expedition, which was to have searched West China's Amne Machin range for a peak higher than Mount Everest, had cost him $250,000.

Pullman Standard Strike Is Ended

BUTLER, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—Approximately 400 CIO workers in the erection shop today ended a two-day strike at Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co. in Butler which had idled 600 other production employees.

The strike started in a demand of CIO United Steelworkers members that a production schedule of 30 cars daily be reduced to 18 cars.

The workers returned to work on the previous schedule, management reported. The walkout had forced a shutdown of the construction, wheel-axle and truck shops.

GOSTA LOSE SOMETIMES

LANCASTER, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—John Twomey, who won the second annual boardwalk straightaway mile race at Atlantic City Saturday, lost a decision to a state trooper on a highway near Lancaster Sunday.

The former University of Illinois runner was clocked in his automobile at speeds ranging between 75 and 80 miles an hour by Sgt. John A. Aumon. Taken before a justice of the peace, Twomey pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

ORDER RE-AUDIT OF WAR MONIES PAID RAILROADS

"watchdog of the treasury," has been negligent in auditing wartime freight vouchers.

Bender said that a decision by Warren to "accelerate" the auditing of freight vouchers, put into effect October 1, 1945, "indicated that a vast sum, in the neighborhood of three to four hundred million dollars, would be ultimately lost to the United States" unless something was done to recover the money.

Warren revealed in a memorandum submitted to several committees of Congress that the re-audit will cover freight transportation vouchers for the period January 1, 1943 to September 30, 1946.

The comptroller general maintained that despite the speed-up in auditing wartime freight vouchers, in effect from October 1, 1945, to June 30, 1947, the GAO was able to recover "a total of nearly a quarter of a billion dollars" in overpayments to railroads. He contended that the speed-up was necessary because of the backlog of work.

Warren admitted, however, that "large numbers of relatively inexperienced employees made many errors without realizing that they were doing so."

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Llewellyn of R. D. 6, Woodrow avenue, died at her residence this morning at 3:47 o'clock, following a year's illness.

SERVE JOHN LEWIS WITH INJUNCTION; COAL MINES IDLE

serve the injunction notice on United Mine Workers officials and operators, district after district reported no change in the status of the protest strike of 400,000 miners.

John L. Lewis, UMW chief, was to be the first to be served with the injunction notice in Washington. The injunction, ordered by President Truman under terms of the Taft-Hartley law, possibly would end the strike for 80 days.

During the past negotiations between Lewis and the operators for a pension plan would continue.

Lack Of Plan

It was lack of a pension plan for miners over 60 with 20 years experience that precipitated the work stoppage last March 15.

The injunction was ordered by the president after receiving a report of the fact-finding board which studied the strike. It came as dependent industries, especially the steel industry, was on the verge of industrial paralysis because of coal shortage.

But operators were skeptical that the 400,000 diggers will return to work. Many of them believe the miners will remain at home until Lewis gives them direct orders to go back to the mines.

Lewis has told the men only that he never ordered the strike.

Generally the miners contended—as did Lewis before the strike began March 15—that the operators "dishonored" the current contract by not providing a pension plan for workers over 60 with 20 years experience.

Steel Reductions

The steel industry, meanwhile, prepared for drastic production cutbacks this week as its coal piles dwindled to only a few thousand tons. They expect to cut their output 60 percent of capacity within a few days if the strike is not ended.

Coal production losses during the 22-day walkout were estimated at about 40,000,000 tons.

The walkout of coal miners already has idled more than 10,000 workers in steel dependent firms, railroad, and water transportation as well as the steel industry itself.

Fear was expressed that if the coal strike lasts much longer home consumers, schools and public institutions will suffer.

elections, where the western powers are pulling all strings to defeat the Communists.

Early emphasis of the recovery program will be placed on strengthening those countries immediately threatened by the Communists.

Billion Through RFC

Without waiting for appropriations, the aid bill provided a billion dollars through the reconstruction finance corporation to start American aid rolling.

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the senate appropriations committee, announced that hearings on appropriations for the program will start April 19. Bridges said he is asking that military attaches and other experts be summoned home from U. S. embassies abroad to testify.

Pending appointment of an administrator by President Truman, the program is being directed by Paul Nitze, adviser to Secretary of State Marshall on Greek-Turkish affairs. Nitze had a skeleton organization set up from various departments well in advance of passage of ERP.

This temporary organization can function as long as 30 days, but it is anticipated the president soon will appoint his top administrator.

Names most frequently mentioned for the post are John J. McCloy, head of the world bank, William L. Clayton, former under-secretary of state, and Paul Gray Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation.

Lewis Douglas, U. S. ambassador to London is regarded as a certain choice for the important roving ambassadorial job abroad.

ARAB-JEW BATTLE RAGES AT CASTEL

ment of Mishmar Haemek, where, according to Jewish spokesmen, Fawzi's forces "hauled away tens of dead and scores of wounded."

It was in this action that the Jews claimed they had counted 40 Arab dead after the battle.

Arab versions of the battle differed considerably. They asserted that the settlement's population of 400 had been "wiped out" and that the Arab flag had been raised over the area.

Haganah sources, on the other hand, said that the Arabs retreated after 20 hours of fierce fighting. They said that two Arab legions and several armored cars participated.

The number of fire alarm boxes in New York City grew from about 2,600 in 1900 to 12,485 today.

portal-to-portal work week. The actual wage demand is not known.

The UMW also intends to call for a 40-cent-a-ton royalty on coal sales against 10 cents, the present figure. This money finances the welfare and retirement fund.

Vacation pay, according to the proposal, would be increased from the present $100 for ten days to $200 to $250.

The current contract is up June 30, and it contains a 30-day reopening clause.

General assistance held 15 per cent of the relief load and blind pensions added five per cent, according to the DPA.

"Of the cases accepted for assistance during the year," the DPA reported, "24 per cent required aid because of loss of income from employment as a result of illness or disablement of wage earner and nine per cent because of the absence, or death, of the wage earner."

Industrial layoffs, discharges, etc., accounted for another 25 per cent of all case openings; 11 per cent of the cases opened needed aid because relatives were no longer able to support; and in 12 per cent of the cases, aid was requested because resources were exhausted or persons were no longer able to get along on small fixed incomes," the department asserted.

Interest has been aroused in Milwaukee by a mayoralty race between Frank Zeidler and Henry Reuss. They are opposing each other on non-partisan tickets.

Milwaukee county in which the City of Milwaukee is located casts about 25 per cent of the state vote. Registration in the city is 50,000 higher than in 1944 and there has been a similar upturn throughout the state. Entry of a MacArthur slate of delegates is the reason.

McGREW-KEMP CHURCH NUPTIALS

 Solemnized by candlelight in the Second U. P. church before an altar embellished with lilies and white snapdragons and palms, was the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Jane Ellen McGrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. McGrew of 201 McClelland avenue, and John Leslie Kemp, son of Mrs. Kenneth E. Kemp of 112 South Mulberry street.

 Vows were exchanged at 7:30 o'clock in a double ring ceremony
 with Rev. J. Calvin Rose officiating.
 The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white satin and chiffon. On the satin bodice a round neckline below
 a chiffon yoke was outlined with seed pearl embroidery in a bow-knot design. The full bishop sleeves of chiffon were gathered to a band
 at the wrist and the very full skirt was of chiffon. Her fingertip veil fell from a half-inch embroidered
 in seed pearls and for "something old" she wore a pearl lavalere of her mother's. She carried a white Bible marked with a white orchid
 and white satin streamers.

 As her matron of honor and only attendant, her sister-in-law, Mrs.
 Frank W. McGrew, wore a gown of aqua fashioned with low round neckline, short sleeves, and a full skirt finished at the waistline with a peplum bow in back. She carried a colonial bouquet of salmon pink roses and white narcissus and her headpiece was a bandeau of matching roses.

 Willis G. McMullen served his nephew as best man. Ushers were Frank W. McGrew and Donald C.
 McGrew, brothers of the bride.
 Soloist was the bride's cousin, Madeline Reinhardt, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Clayton Cranmer was the organist.

 Following the ceremony there was a reception in the church dining room for 100 guests where the bridal party was seated at a table
 centered with a bouquet of mixed spring flowers and lighted by candles. Centering the table from which refreshments were served
 was a four-tiered wedding cake,
 cut by the bride and groom. Pouring were Mrs. Donald C. McGrew and Miss Vivien Kemp, sister of the groom.

 Mr. and Mrs. Kemp left by car
 on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and upon their return will take up residence for the time being in the home of the bride's parents.

 Both Mr. and Mrs. Kemp are employed by the Bell Telephone company, she is one of the local offices and he in Sharon. She is a graduate of Union high school, he of New Castle high school.

 the living conditions and customs of the people and some of the no-

 Third part of her talk was on
 "The History of Orchids." She told of the culture and many species
 of orchids illustrated with pictures
 of the very beautiful varieties grown in East Liverpool, O.

 During the business meeting,
 reports of various committees were heard. Mrs. H. E. Golder, Regent, presided.

 Donations were made to the

CALENDAR HAS "PEACE" DAY

If Miss Jessie Low Warren of Denver has her way—and if she doesn't it will not be from lack of zeal—the world will measure time in a more simplified and balanced manner starting in 1951.

And the old nursery rhyme about "thirty days hath September, etc.," will be revised to something like:

"Twenty-eight days hath

September,

March and June and November

Mercury and all the rest.

December, though, has twenty-

nine

(With World Peace to make it fine)

And Leap Year brings an extra

guest."

Miss Warren began worrying about the calendar about the same time Teddy Roosevelt did. That was about the turn of the century and she was a bank stenographer in Chicago. When Miss Warren worries, she worries constructively and by 1945 she had a new calendar all figured out.

"Warren's Universal Balanced Calendar" has 13 months and each of the months has 28 days. December 29 is World Peace Day to make up the 365 days of the normal year and there will be a February 29 every four years just as there is in the Gregorian calendar. The thirteenth month will be known as Mercury.

The World Calendar Association has been pushing for a 13-month calendar, but Miss Warren is convinced hers is better because it takes religious beliefs into account and plays no tricks with the Sabbath.

The year when her calendar can be put into effect with least disturbance is 1951, she says. "You see," she explains, "each week in my calendar starts on Monday and the calendar should go into effect in some year when January 1 falls on a Monday."

Miss Warren sees all manner of benefits from the simplified calendar in which all months will be of the same length. And the world could use that "World Peace Day" idea at that.

DUCK LIMITS

The Federal Wildlife Service says the bag limit for duck hunters will remain the same as last year. Coincidentally, the service announces a nationwide series of 14 meetings on waterfowl problems "to give sportsmen a chance to submit recommendations or complaints to the government."

But, it is added, "hunting regulations for 1948 will not be discussed." The wildlife press release also quotes Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant director, as saying the service has decided to quit releasing duck population figures because hunters take the figures and misinterpret them.

Just too dumb to understand, eh?

The department proposes to hold a series of gagged meetings, but warns sportsmen in advance that nothing can come of it. To make it worse, sportsmen are told that in the future they will not be permitted to know how many ducks are in existence. This information will be a top secret.

For this sportsmen pay the Federal Wildlife Service a couple of million dollars a year in duck stamp money—and if the bureaucrats have their way would-be duck shooters will be required to pay them even more when they get a raise in the price of duck stamps. The raise is not to produce more ducks, but to create a big federal enforcement agency with its attendant increase in swivel chair personnel.

Federal duck stamps were originally issued to provide money for projects which would increase the number of ducks available for shooting. Apparently it hasn't had this effect. If ducks are so scarce as to warrant present stringent regulations, why not close the season entirely for a year? The service's off-the-record answer to that one is, "We can't afford to lose the duck stamp money!"

The Federal Wildlife Service is not doing the job it is being paid to do by the sportsmen who pay the bills. Now, by withholding population figures and holding gagged meetings, it is telling sportsmen it no longer gives a hoot whether they like it or not.

This ought to be the straw to start a rebellion against the entire set-up in the department.

BREAKING OUT VICTOR

Throughout the U. S. Navy the letter V (pronounced victory) stands for aviation. A "VR" is a squadron of transport planes, a "VPB" a patrol-bombing squadron, a "VF" a fighter squadron. Among ships an "AV" is a seaplane tender, a "CV" a large carrier. Aboard a carrier the alphabetical signal flag "V" is hoisted when aircraft are being launched or taken aboard.

When the signal bridge "breaks out Victor," the ship is prepared to do everything possible to help the pilots of even the conventional planes with radial engines. To offer maximum lift for the wings, the ship at high speed is turned squarely into the wind.

Wind speed and ship's speed combined, the pilot has a wind of perhaps 40 or 50 knots to support him and shorten his run on wheels. Even so, a flight deck can look awfully short.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Once again the battered, underfed city of Berlin stood out on the European horizon today as a mighty symbol of power and prestige, a thing that Adolf Hitler never thought could happen when he killed himself in the flaming wreckage of his capital.

This is a major factor in the bitter dispute between the United States and Soviet Russia on the free movement of military and food trains.

Many observers regard the initial Russian restrictions on rail travel as merely the first step in a definite campaign to force the western allies out of Berlin.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the American and British commanders, are determined to remain and will not even consider evacuation of soldiers' dependents.

There is question that if the Soviets took over all of Berlin and announced its allegedly "willing communication" it would be a heavy blow to democratic prestige, especially with the Italian elections now only two weeks away.

But there is a question as to whether the allies would be able to hold on if the Russians took all measures short of a shooting war to achieve their aims.

It is obvious that if the Soviets started to get rough the Americans and British would react with a vigor that might surprise Marshal Sokolovsky and Joseph Stalin.

The Russians are believed to be too shrewd to resort to actual violence. But they are expert operators in the field of indirect attack and they hold a great many advantages in Berlin.

For example, 12 of Berlin's 14 electric power plants are in the Soviet zone of Berlin. The Americans and British have made great strides in expanding the two they control and making sure they are well supplied with coal from the Ruhr.

But these are not sufficient for the whole American-occupied area and it would not be difficult for the Soviets to paralyze industry by the simple expedient of closing down their supply of power to the zone, alleging fuel shortage or a similar excuse.

The Russians also control Berlin's water supply. Along the main railway stations, marshalling yards and switch points are in the hammer and sickle area.

Observers believe the Soviets would refrain from any steps which

The Parent Problem

TEACH PUPILS VALUE

OF A DEMOCRACY

The United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. John W. Studebaker, has launched a nation-wide program to encourage the schools of our Republic to expose the fallacies of totalitarian governments and to acquaint our 32,000,000 school children with the blessings we enjoy under our democratic form of government.

Fifteen leading educators have been called to the Office of Education, at Washington, D. C., to set up the program designed to induce our teachers and school authorities throughout the Nation to make a concerted effort to render our school children not only conscious of the ways of our democracy but to feel a fervor for it.

No Temporary Emotion
We want our children to shout, at least feel, "Hurrah for the United States of America's way. Hurrah for democracy at work in other countries of the world." And we don't want this feeling to be a mere temporary wild of emotion. We want it to be a lasting emotion built on intelligent appreciation.

Dr. Studebaker has urged school administrators and teachers to give their pupils and students the positive values of democracy as well as the negative aspects of communism and fascism. To give them a clear understanding of the essential elements of our Nation's way of life. 2. To contrast the meaning and practice of democracy with those of dictatorship. 3. To recognize subtle strategy (tricks and propaganda) of communism and fascism and to guard against it intelligently. 4. To inspire the school children with a zeal for the better working of our democracy.

Take Responsibility
One great virtue of this move is that it should help to focus the attention of practically all teachers and children of the Republic simultaneously on the place for the "blessings of liberty we enjoy" and on the need of bearing responsibilities to make us worthy of their liberties.

Already considerable progress has been made through student participation in school government, even in the upper elementary grade levels, to acquaint children with an expression of democracy. But youths need to appreciate and experience increased responsibility for self-discipline and readiness to make self-sacrifice for the welfare of their classmates, school and larger community. To these ends much needs to be done, for the average youth still sees in "student participation" the glaze of freedom without much challenge to his effort at shouldering responsibilities.

Dr. Studebaker's fourth objective will have been attained when the word "democracy" will bring to the youth's mind responsibility as often as freedom—and the hard as well as the easy side of responsibility.

Let us hope that the actual operation of Dr. Studebaker's program won't be limited to talk, but will, chiefly, be daily, constant, demonstration by the teacher of great regard for each child as an individual person (Communism and fascism have no place for the sacredness of anybody's personality). Let us also hope there will be like regard by the children for the teacher and for one another.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

"The knife of Poesy may cut no

bread;

"The edge of inspiration may be dull.

"And falling hopes have smashed

the poet's skull."

Thus read the end of a poem

written by Anton Romatka, who was found dead in his dingy

Greenwich Village flat.

His death might not have been discovered for quite a while had

it not been for the fact that some of his fellow poets had gone up

to his place to gather for the weekly poetry salon he had conducted for some many years.

They rang his bell by pulling a clothespin attached to a bailing

wire outside a faded door which bore this sign: "Anton Romatka, poet-critic. Verse writing taught by mail or appointment. Manuscripts corrected. Free Poetry

Forum."

Thus rang again and again. No answer. They called the police.

The door was broken down. Anton

Romatka's body was taken to the morgue.

To most people Greenwich Village has become a sightseeing

place.

Greenwich Village of the true Bohemian, the aspiring artist

and writer, and of the disappointed, still exists.

Anton Romatka was a true Vil-

lagger.

A character, they called him.

Nobody knew where he came from or anything much about his early life. Some said he had been a cowboy in Texas, others thought

he was once a farmer, a wrestler,

a prizefighter.

But all knew that he was a poet,

although he never made a decent living at his art.

He was an expert on poetical

form and he earned a few measly

dollars writing poetry and altering it for other poets, some of whom later became successful.

Romatka could probably have earned a good living writing singing commercials for radio or lim-

ericks of which you fill in the last line and win $25,000 in prizes.

But to him poetry was an art.

Living was an art. Money meant nothing. Commercialism was despicable.

So Anton Romatka, the poet, lived

in poverty because he lived as we are told daily we should live, because he was an idealist in this age of materialism.

He was more than 70 years old

—how much more no one seems to know—and apparently there was no wife, no child, no kin. His friends are trying to get enough money together to give him a decent burial.

There is no moral to this story.

But I thought I'd tell it to you,

because I think there is a little of the poet and the dreamer and the idealist in every one of us.

Waiting For The Cat To Jump

The Franco Cult

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—There is a strange cult of idol-worship creeping through the country. It is manifested by a tendency even in high places to bow down and worship Generalissimo Franco. He is now being publicized and exalted as the one national ruler who knew how to deal with Communism.

Americans with sense enough to know better are performing rituals of admiration before the Franco altar. In their fear of Communism and their general bewilderment at the trend of world events, they are attributing to the Spanish dictator the godlike qualities of omniscience, clairvoyance and leadership in the world's destiny.

Francisco, to be sure, is not sweeping the country. But it is infiltrating into our national habits of thought. It is easily recognizable as another psychotic desire for authoritarianism. As such, it is a further extension of the wish on the part of some for more stringent censorship of thought and expression, for more witch hunts and secret policemen. It is a symptom—a lamentable symptom—of loss of faith in our own political beliefs and religion.

Worshippers at the Franco shrine are already casting some offerings before it. This was evident—and

TWO HOMES

When into a home I go,
Seeing everything in place;
Not a single stain to show;
Scarce of life a trace;
Peace and rigid all the chairs;
Walls and windows clean;
Quiet, up and down the stairs;
Time and space serene;
Waiting, to myself I say:
"It is all too clear,
Only old folks, wrinkled, gray,
Can be living here."

But if just inside the door
Skates and sleds I find,
And upon the parlor floor
Toys of every kind;
If there's clothing strewn about,
Crums upon a chair,
And occasionally a shout
Startles while I'm there,
If a shock of tousled hair
Mother has to comb,
While I chat, I then declare
I am right at home.

Hints On Etiquette

To be careless with someone else's fine possessions is uncivilized, even if you are not careful with your own.

still is—in congressional moves to pipe Marshall plan benefits into Spain. It will also be evident in forthcoming efforts to bring Spain into the fold of the United Nations.

Meanwhile, State Department officials are hoping that this Spanish fever will run its course and disappear before it infects any sizable body of American thought. Quite aside from the detrimental influence on domestic politics, Francoism could complicate our already confused foreign relations. State Department experts tell me that this could happen in one or all of the following ways:

1. Bring about a useless clash with Russia when the UN general assembly meets again. An American attempt to whitewash Franco and welcome his government into the anti-Red bloc of nations would infuriate the Soviet leaders and gain us nothing.

2. Prejudice our good relations with European Socialists who are working to establish a union of Western Europe. So foul is Franco's reputation among British, French and Belgian liberals that any pro-Franco gesture on our part would spread the alarm against a return of Fascism.

3. Perform a disservice to the original Marshall plan nations. They are actively threatened with Communism whereas Spain is not. American aid would unquestionably help Spain, but it would—according to government economists—hinder recovery elsewhere in Europe. Spanish raw materials in the form of iron, copper and citrus fruit are now flowing into Britain and France where they are needed. Franco should not be assisted in his plans to industrialize and militarize his country.

4. Finally, any sympathy extended France would thwart the efforts of freedom-minded Spaniards who believe their nation will soon emerge as a genuine if needy democracy.

All this, however, seems less important than the creeping effect of Franco-worship here at home. Americans have come a long way in the wrong direction when they begin to look to this Spanish Mussolini as a successful world statesman.

FOOD AND FAT
People eat a lot of fat which they do not know about. At least they do not give it much consideration.

Cooking and baking make use of a large amount of fat which is sort of concealed or hidden.

People who do not like fat meat will eat soup containing lots of liquid fat without realizing it.

Pie and cake contain a good bit of fat. Sometimes it is lard, sometimes it is vegetable oil.

Olives, coconuts, nuts and other foods provide fat in a form which is not very noticeable.

Some people think that they eat a very small amount of fat when they really use a lot of it.

Over 40 percent of the Union of South Africa is more than 4000 feet above sea level.

Finds Hotels Bad

By PAUL GALLICO

This unnamable bit of prose will probably evoke shrieks of anguish and protest from the hotel men but it is time someone told them to put their houses in order and since I have just returned from an extended trip down and up the Atlantic seaboard and am fed up with their dirty rooms sloppy service and punk food at high prices, it might as well be me.

I will not name these joints, but will merely remark that in each town or city where I stayed overnight I went to the best hotel and found them all alike—dirty, unkempt and highly depressing. The gents who own them need to pull up their socks and start raising a little Ned around them. The war has been over for years so they cannot use that as an excuse any longer. I would like to take a little bet that the standard of living in the hotels was higher fifty years ago than it is today. The American public is entitled to better for its money than it is getting.

These inns I am discussing range from the small town commercial hotels to huge palaces with national and international names. True, some of the latter were taken over by the Army during the war and are badly run down from the operation, but what is to prevent the proprietors from closing them up, renovating thoroughly, repainting, replacing worn-out furnishings and serving the public again the way they used to do?

Prices haven't come down to match the state of disrepair of these places. On the contrary, they are up all along the line. And then you find bed linen of the worst quality, the th

Delaware Woman Shoots Husband During Argument

WILMINGTON, Del., April 5.—(INS)—A 39-year-old Wilmington housewife was held today on charges of shooting her husband in an argument resulting from his tardiness in coming to the dinner table. Police held Mrs. Mildred E. Porter on charges of assault with intent to kill and discharging a firearm in the city. Her husband, Harry, 55, received a superficial neck wound according to Delaware hospital attendants. Investigators said Porter took a nap and failed to get up when his wife called him to dinner. She ate alone and took a nap until Porter awoke and asked her to warm his supper, detectives said. She was charged with firing at him with a 20 gauge shotgun. Police said that when they arrived, Porter was eating.

No Coal Shortage In Domestic Use

Thus far local retail coal dealers have not expressed concern at the present coal strike, all having a fair stock of coal in their yards, ready to meet the demands of local consumers, it was said today by a number of dealers.

In a city-wide survey conducted, local dealers are spared from what might be a "drastic situation" if it were not for the rather mild spring weather now prevalent.

There is no coal being brought into the city by railroad at the present time. The small loads received by each coal dealer, is transported in their own trucks from the strip-mining sections near Butler, Mercer, Venango counties and nearby Portersville.

The comparatively mild weather here now has helped the situation greatly the dealers believe. In fact, most dealers are certain the situation would be a different story if the weather should turn cold. Most of the domestic consumers are still burning their winter's supply of coal, and only but a few, have had to purchase additional tons of coal.

To Paint Hydrants Before The Sesqui

Four hundred and twenty five hydrants will wear a "new look" for the sesqui-centennial, according to Safety Director Dick Davis.

He said today that he intends to have them all painted. A feature of the painting is that the nozzle of hydrants will be coated different from each other.

For instance, a hydrant into which water pours from a four inch main will be painted one color. Those which have a six inch main will have another color, and those which have an eight inch main will have a color different from the others.

He hasn't decided upon the color of paint for the hydrants. It may continue to be red, and may not. He said today that the hydrants are difficult to see at night, hence he intends to use another color, if it makes them plainer to see.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

successful Olympiad was held in Los Angeles in 1932.

The first Olympiad was held in Greece before the Christian Era. The ancient Greeks were great athletes. The Marathon Race was the most famous race held at the Greek Olympiads. The Marathon Race was won at the Olympiad held in the United States in 1896 by a Greek but from that time on no Greek has won a single Marathon. United States athletes have won two; France has won two; Finland has won two; one has been won by Canada, South Africa and the Argentina. The last Marathon in 1936 was won by a Japanese.

Athletes from the United States have won the great majority of all the events except the long races, from 3000 meters up. The little nation of Finland has won nineteen of these long races since 1896. Paavo Nurmi, a Finland runner, will be well remembered. The United States has won since 1896, the 60 meters, the 100 meters, the 220 meters, the 400 meters, the hurdle races, the standing and running jumps, the relay races and the pole vault; also, the hammer throws, the discus throws and the shot-put. There is one event that the United States has never won and that is the javelin throw. L. Lemming, an entry from Sweden, has won it four times and Finland likewise four times. Once in 1912, Lemming, the Swede, won it both with the right-hand and the left-hand throw of the javelin. In 1928, Paavo Yrvala, an entry from Finland, won probably the most prized of all, the Decathlon.

Four Drowned In Conemaugh River

Three Young Men Lose Lives When Boat Upsets, Mental Patient Is Fourth Victim

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—The Conemaugh river today had claimed four victims, three of them Blairsville youths who drowned when their flat bottom boat overturned and the fourth a patient at Torrence state hospital. The boys, according to George Grignon, 12, of Blairsville, the boat's lone survivor, had gone up a small creek to fish. On their return the boat capsized. Two of the victims, Melvin Kelly, 19, and Charles Clark, 21, made an effort to save nine-year-old Ronnie Squibbs, as did Grignon. One Survivor All three failed, and George, the only one of the party who could swim, made shore and notified firemen of what had happened. Kelly's and Clark's bodies have been recovered, but they are still dragging for Squibbs. The body of John Berlocchi, the patient, was found floating in the river an hour after he was last seen near the institution.

Reciprocal Trade Agreements May Be Allowed To Expire

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., indicated today that Republican leaders in Congress are thinking of letting the reciprocal trade agreements act expire June 12. Martin declared that the question of whether the 14-year-old New Deal law should be extended is "merely academic for this year." He explained that if the Republican Congress permitted the act to expire temporarily it would have no repercussions because existing trade treaties still will remain in effect for several years and no new ones are contemplated at present. Martin's comments bolstered talk in Congress among Republican leaders that it might be well to wait until 1949 before extending the law on the theory that a GOP President may be elected.

STUEBENVILLE, O., April 5.—(INS)—Dr. Norman Nygaard, Steubenville pastor, who has been the center of several stormy controversies, Sunday informed his congregation that he would resign. Dr. Nygaard, who spearheaded the 1946 anti-vice campaign, said he desired to devote more time to his writing and would continue as pastor until a successor was named. He recently sold the screen rights

Dr. Nygaard is also running as a Stassen delegate in the 18th congressional district.

Youth Suicides By Leap In River

BELLE VERNON, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—A 16-year-old Charleroi youth plunged 250 feet to his death from the Pittsburgh-West Virginia trestle near Belle Vernon Sunday in what state police believe was a suicide leap. Officers identified the youth as Donald J. Gillingham and were investigating reports that he was worried over driving an automobile without the consent of the owner.

The body was recovered from the Monongahela by firemen after four fire companies had been dragging the river for almost eight hours.

HUNT WRECKER HERE

State police received a teletype today to watch for a 1940 Ford wrecker which was stolen from Butler last night. It carried 1947 license plates X8855. Another car, stolen at the same place, was recovered by police at Mt. Chestnut.

RECEIVING LINE

"Please give me the correct

formation of the receiving line.

(2) How soon in advance of the wedding should invitations be sent? When should announcements

be sent? (3) To whom should announcements be sent? (4) What should be stated on the reception

cards? Is it correct to have

"R.s.v.p." inserted on them?

Answer: (1) If there will be few

attendees, you may have only one

receiving line formed as follows:

Bride to the groom's right, groom,

mother of groom, father of groom

(who need not stand in the receiving line if he prefers not to do so),

mother of the bride, bridal attendants, half on each side. If you will require two lines, have a separate line for the mothers:

Bride's mother, groom's mother and father. The bride's father usually circulates among the guests. Back father in the room is the bride's receiving line headed

by the bride with the groom by her side, with the bridesmaids

either grouped beyond her or else

divided half on her side and half

on the groom's side.

(2 & 3) Invitations should be mailed from 2 to 3 weeks before the date set for the ceremony. Announcements should be sent on the wedding day after the ceremony.

They should not be sent to anyone who received an invitation to the wedding.

(4) The reception card should

state the time and place of the reception and may, and usually does, include the initials "R.s.v.p."

Question: (1) Should a businessman rise when a woman (business seller) comes into his private office? (2) Should a male office manager (being the more important)

have women employees introduced to him?

Answer: (1) Yes. He should remain standing until she is seated

and rise when she rises to leave.

(2) No. The same rule applies in business, as in social life, thus: Miss

Employee, this is Mr. Office Manager.

Present your problems to Miss

Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Don't Foresee Excise Tax Cut

Government Expenditures Over Budget Estimates Will Stall Any Slash

By FELIX COTTEN
(N. C. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Doubt was expressed by House Speaker Martin Saturday that Congress will enact any cuts in excise taxes this year due to legislation providing for government expenditures above January budget estimates.

Martin declared that it was unlikely that the general tax revision bill which the ways and means committee plans to bring out this spring will contain any reduction in excise levies. He said: "It is doubtful that we can make any cuts in excise taxes this year if the administration keeps on asking for additional money for various purposes, as it has been doing since January. However, excise taxes should be reduced."

The 4.8 billion dollar tax reduction bill which Congress passed over President Truman's veto Friday is the first of two tax measures which Republican leaders have scheduled for passage this year.

With this bill now on the law books, treasury officials tackled two tasks.

The most immediate is to put lower withholding taxes into effect May 1, the date provided for in the new law. The next is to arrange for refunds for overwithholding of taxes from wages and salaries from Jan. 1 to May 1.

The tax cut is retroactive to Jan. 1, and as a result the government will owe millions of taxpayers moderate sums for the four-month period during which the higher withholding rates will be in effect this year.

G.I. Ag Trainees Honor Instructor

Farewell Party Held in New Wilmington Grange Hall Friday Evening For Robert Elder

Fifty-five World War II agriculture students who have been receiving G. I. training under Robert T. Elder gathered in the New Wilmington Grange hall Friday evening, along with their wives and invited guests to the number of 115, as a farewell courtesy to Mr. Elder, who is giving up his position as instructor to engage in private enterprise.

Archie Stewart of Enon Valley served as toastmaster, and after a period of group singing, Worrell M. Jones, training officer of the U. S. Veterans Administration here, gave an interesting talk in which he discussed the many opportunities which the veteran of World War II enjoys under existing legislation.

James C. Fink, vocational supervisor for Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties, showed two interesting films relating to rural activity.

Mr. Elder was presented with a beautiful gold watch, appropriately engraved, from the group.

At the close of the evening the group repaired to the basement, where refreshments were served by the wives of the students.

Church Shooting Fatal To Man, One Other Hospitalized

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—One man was dead today and another confined to the Harrisburg hospital in a serious condition in the aftermath of a Sunday afternoon shooting in a Macedonian church hall in Steelton.

District Attorney Carl B. Shelley said George Minoff, Steelton, was held in the Dauphin county jail in connection with the shooting which stemmed from an argument over selection of a pastor for the church.

Instant Death
Killed almost instantly by a .38 calibre bullet was Kocke Atzeff, 24, Steelton. Boris Miff, 30, was taken to the hospital and following a midnight operation his condition was pronounced serious.

An official of the church was reading a letter from a Bulgarian who had applied for the pastorate, Shelley said, when a fight developed in the rear of the church. Minoff fired into the crowd, killing Atzeff and Miff, he added.

Minoff will be charged today, Shelley said, because a law prohibited Sunday arraignments.

Westinghouse Will Oppose Increases

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Westinghouse Electric Corporation today expressed opposition to a third round wage increase on the grounds that it is an inflationary move.

In letters sent to its 75,000 employees, the company warned that an increase would defeat its own purpose of leading to further inflation, and might even affect employment by weakening the firm's competitive position.

Westinghouse is now engaged in wage negotiations with the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, which is demanding a wage increase to offset the increase in the cost of living.

Exact wage demands have not been announced, but union spokesmen have estimated that the purchasing power has declined $13.03 a week since the last contract was signed.

WAYS TO CLEAN NEW FABRICS

New fabrics require new methods for keeping them clean. Heavy plastic-coated household and upholstery fabrics, such as koro-seal, Fabrikoid, Beutanol, and Versilan, can be wiped clean with a soft cloth wrung out in lukewarm, mild, soapy water. A few drops of household ammonia added to remove stubborn soil on upholstery is quite satisfactory. If pressing is necessary it may be done by ironing the plastic-coated cloth with moderate heat. Iron these fabrics on the wrong side of the material with a slightly damp cloth between the iron and the plastic.

To clean the heavy film-type plastic fabrics, used in upholstery, curtains, and aprons, sponge them off in the same manner. Rinse them with clean water and allow them to drip dry. Wrinkles will usually hang out and if necessary can be pressed out by using heavy brown paper between the iron and the plastic.

Showers, curtains, bathroom and kitchen curtains, and others made of light film-type plastics may be washed gently by hand in warm sudsy water and rinsed in clear water. Shake the fabric, open it, and hang it away from heat to dry. If it becomes a bit sticky, sprinkle the fabric with talcum powder after it is thoroughly dry.

Gently squeeze nylon fabrics in lukewarm suds to wash them. Rinse them thoroughly and dry them rapidly away from the heat. Pressing nylons is easy if done on the wrong side when the fabric is almost dry. Chlorine and household bleaches will discolor and weaken nylon fabric.

A recent survey by Industrial Surveys Co., Inc., shows that approximately 31,839,000 families in the U. S., or more than 80 per cent of the nation's total, include marine among their purchases. Two years ago approximately 65 per cent of U. S. families used it.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. Scott

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.—(INS)—Madeleine Carroll, who shared a lot of experiences with GI's during the war, finds herself knee-deep in one of their civilian problems today.

The beautiful blonde actress, returning to the screen for the first time since her war years with the Red Cross overseas, commented:

"I know how the veterans feel when they're told that those years were just that much experience lost. GI's, looking for jobs, find they haven't got the experience."

Starting All Over
"Hollywood is just the same. Everything that one has done outside of Hollywood must be forgotten—and I am starting all over again."

But Madeleine hastened to add: "I'll never consider my five years over there as time lost. I lost a lot of fans, surely, but I gained so many more friends. Fans forget—friends don't."

And those friends are cropping up in the actress' life every day—on the movie set, on the streets of New York, in stores where she shops.

Remember Me?
Recently she was jumping across a mud puddle in New York City when a street cleaner exclaimed: "Hey, Carroll, remember me?" It's a far cry from a GI hospital.

In Italy to the streets of New York, but Madeleine remembered his face. She had forgotten the name, of course, but came back with: "Sure, Bub, I remember you. How're things?"

The tiredness, the broken nails, the feeling of not-quite-so-much-to-eat, are all gone—but the war will never be over for this girl who gave up stardom to serve at the front, who held the hands of dying soldiers.

Making Picture
We sat in her bungalow on the lot of General Services Studios, where she is making her comeback in a James Nasser production, "An Innocent Affair."

There were numerous interruptions—the door-bell ringing, the telephone, her Sealyham demanding entrance—and each time the star jumped up, not waiting for her maid. No, the war isn't over for Madeleine Carroll.

The lovely, natural blonde is puzzled over another thing. She said:

"When I came back, I wanted to talk about the war. I wanted to tell people things that happened. I found nobody wanted to listen. They wanted to forget. Now, however, I find they suddenly are asking me about it. Everybody is becoming war conscious."

Has Handsome Husband
Miss Carroll and her handsome French husband, movie producer Henri Lavoire, plan to make documentary films for distribution throughout the world. He is currently working on such movies for the U.N.

They believe that peace can be achieved only through education of the young. And that the movies are the best medium of transporting knowledge from one country to another. She's sure they can get their film behind the iron curtain.

She said: "If the youth of this country doesn't take the lead, Russian youth will."

Moose Lodge Honors Dead

Annual Memorial Service For Those Passing On During Year Held Sunday

Solemn in their appointments were the annual memorial services of New Castle Lodge, No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, which were conducted in the Moose Temple on South Mercer street, Sunday evening.

The speaker was Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, and special music was rendered by the Hayden quartet, with Roy Strobel as accompanist. Rev. Jones gave a splendid address, recalling to memory the eleven members of the lodge who had passed on during the year.

When the names were called of these deceased members, the Women of the Moose, assisting with the service, placed a flower on the altar in their memory. The arrangements were in charge of Harry Evans, chairman, with Governor Joseph P. Todd, presiding.

Those whose memory was honored, were: Al Krah, Mike Ritty, Warren Hennon, Augustine Faella, Karl A. Brooks, Edward C. Benninghoff, Charles Longacre, David Rhodes, James E. Bell, Harry L. Sager, and Harry H. McClure.

The hall was tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers for the occasion.

Chief's Car Gets Permanent Wave

This shows part of the damage to the fire chief's car which resulted from a three way crash on Jefferson street Saturday.

William Bowen, second assistant to the fire chief, was injured about the chest and three cars were damaged, one the chief's car and the other police cruiser No. 3, in a crash at 3:20 p. m. Saturday at North Jefferson and North Street.

The chief's car with Bowen driving and Raymond Hammond, another fireman, as an occupant, was proceeding north in North Jefferson street, with the siren blowing. It is reported they were en route to answer a call to Canyon street. The fire chief's car sustained considerable damage.

William Hughes, 725 Croton avenue, was driving west in North street. He had stopped for the red light at North Jefferson street, and getting the green light, started through the intersection.

When his car arrived at the center of the intersection, the fire chief's car, traveling north, was struck on the right side. The force drove it against a Police cruiser, operated by Policeman Walter Te-well, which had, en route south in North Jefferson street, stopped for the red light.

In the police car at the time was Policemen Davis, Russo and Bartoshek, and a woman prisoner, Mary McClure of Youngstown, who had been arrested for alleged trouble she caused on a Greyhound bus. None of the police, the woman, or Hammond, were injured.

Bowen was sent to the Jameson Memorial hospital for examination for possible chest injuries, and was released Sunday afternoon.

Hughes apparently did not hear the siren on the chief's car because the windows of his car were up.

According to the state motor code, all vehicles are supposed to yield the right of way to police cars, fire apparatus, and ambulances, according to reports.

Three Pilots Die In Mid-Air Crash

CIRCLEVILLE, O., April 5.—(INS)—Three veteran Circleville pilots—one the wife of an airport manager—were killed Sunday night when their two light planes crashed in mid-air and fell in the city's south side.

State highway patrolmen said one witness told them the two planes crashed head-on at around 1,000 to 1,400 feet. However, a second witness said the wings of the planes apparently hit as they were passing.

The victims were Mrs. Ruth Swift, 31, wife of Robert Swift, manager of the Thomas Airport near Circleville; Virgil E. New man, 40, and Jack Moats, 21, his passenger. Newman and Moats were automobile dealers.

New Castle Public Schools

One of a series of articles concerning the public schools of New Castle. Written by a member of the New Castle Chapter, Pennsylvania State Education Association.

From the moment his first cry is heard, his education begins! One is concerned more about his physical growth for the first few months, but even those months have their influence upon his developing personality and later adjustment to situations.

You, as parents, are establishing proper or improper behavior responses as early as this. He needs loving and a constant growing realization that he "belongs" and is secure.

That pediatricians now advocate more fondling of very young children in a sensible way, is very gratifying to most parents. A child that grows up with a feeling of not being loved has a warped personality from the beginning and not so great a chance of adjusting himself in kindergarten, school and even later in life.

The toys a child is given have much influence in developing right habits and responses. The earliest toys should be safe, lightweight and brightly colored. Even before he can handle toys, some, such as bright-colored balloons, beads, etc. may be suspended so he can look at them. Later he enjoys a spinning toy attached to his feet, gaining good leg muscle exercise.

When he begins to crawl and walk, he enjoys strong toys that he can push and pull, as well as pound one object upon another.

Floating rubber and plastic toys free from sharp, protruding parts are enjoyed in the bath tub. Some musical toys are very good as they develop the consciousness of sound.

A few toys of the right kind are of far more value educationally than many of the cheaper variety. Toys develop the early muscular and sensory responses of children and serve as an aid to arouse interest and sustain attention.

Right obedience responses which are so essential to happy, balanced personality can be established during these first few years and will aid your child to adjust himself more easily in his relationship with home, and playmates.

Hensley Announces For General Assembly

Fourth Ward Engineer A Candidate For Democratic Nomination April 27

JOSEPH R. HENSLEY

"As a Democratic candidate for the office of representative in the General Assembly from the city of New Castle, I respectfully submit to the Democratic electorate the following background: I graduated from a technical course in high school and completed a two year business course at the age of 18 in Ashland, Kentucky. I moved to New Castle in January 1925 and in the intervening years have taken extension work in engineering and personnel and labor relations.

"I am 42 years of age and have been married for the past twenty years. I have two daughters in senior high school, a son in junior high and a son two years of age. I have owned and maintained my home at 506 East Washington street in New Castle for the past eleven years.

"I have been employed as a lathe operator, clerk, estimating engineer on construction and administrative engineer on design. Other employment has been as manager of the New Castle office of the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment compensation for three years, manager of manufacturing planning for Goodyear Aircraft Corporation for three years. This company employed more than 35,000 persons at its peak. At present I am employed with the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company as an industrial engineer doing plant and equipment layout work and application and specification of materials handling equipment.

"I am a member of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers Society.

"I am convinced that the legislature should make or authorize a complete study of the taxing structure of our state with the view of eliminating many of the makeshift tax laws and of putting taxation on a solid foundation based on the needs of the state and on ability to pay.

"I heartily favor taking whatever steps that may be necessary in order to maintain the highest quality teaching staffs for our public school system. I realize that this probably entails higher teachers salaries. I also realize that the citizen of tomorrow is to a very considerable extent the product of our public school system.

"As I commute daily to my work, I know that I will not have time to visit many Democrats whom I would very much like to personally contact. However, if you feel that I am qualified for the office to which I aspire, I will greatly appreciate your vote and assistance in the primary election of April 27, 1948.

Mount Jackson Junior High Class Will Present Play

In the auditorium of Mt. Jackson high school, the Junior class will present three acts of fun and laughter, on Wednesday evening, April 7, at eight o'clock. The play is entitled, "Make Yourself At Home."

Delightful Mary is trying to make a home for her young brother and sister who are twins. She is expecting a proposal from Eustace, her employer, which would complete her plans, and save the twins from living with Aunt Lavinia, their Bostonian aunt, who has very determined ideas. But these plans are interrupted by Mike, the Kiss-thief, Polly the parrot, and Rosie the pig. Mike woos Mary, with the help of Tyler, his pal, giggling Gail and charming Minette, her girl friends.

Mary is played by Sabina Wallace; Janie by Nancy McKinley; Jimmy by Lloyd Raney; Aunt La-vinia by Doris Gilmore; Eustace by Gerald Tindall; Mike by Wayne Emery; Tyler by Lyle Gwin; Cassidy by Lewis Anderson; Gail by Betty Giesecke; Minette by Evelyn Kuhn.

The first American newspaper was the Boston News-Letter, established by John Campbell in April, 1704.

OLD TIRES ON CITY DUMP BURN

Third ward firemen were called to the city dump on Cascade street at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a report that grass was on fire. On arriving at the scene, it was found that a huge pile of old tires, which had been stored by the custodian of the dump, had caught fire. More than half of the pile was destroyed. The only loss was in the value they could have been sold for junk. The blaze caused a dense pall of black smoke to hang over the district, leading many folks to think a serious fire was in progress.

Lots Of Room For Improvement

—New Castle News Photo

Just around that hill, beyond this atrocious, unsightly mound of weeds and brush and sandy soil, is the Nurses Home of the New Castle hospital. Those girls who work long hours devoting their lives to ease the misery of ailing patients, live there. They must be greatly aided in cheering others by that miserable mound of desolation.

This is the sequel-centennial year. Thousands of old-timers will be returning to our fair city. Is that what they will see too? Think how much better that mound would look to hospital patients, nurses and to visitors if it were landscaped. It could be beautiful. But then it would take a little work and care.

A few fine trees, shrubs, or bright flowers would certainly look better than weeds or barren spots and more healthful to occupants of a hospital. Let us clean-up, look-up and be proud. This is sequel-centennial year.

MOCK CONVENTION AT WESTMINSTER OPENS TOMORROW

speaking at the convention opening will be Attorney Thomas V. Mansell, a lecturer in political science, and Prof. Manley.

Resolutions providing such committees as credentials, rules, permanent organization, regulations, will be passed and various convention incidents will be cleared for the Wednesday session.

On Wednesday night the various committee reports will be received and debated before passage and the platform will be adopted.

Nominate Thursday

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock the convention will get down to the important business at hand, the presentation of candidates. Nomination addresses for president are limited to 15 minutes, seconding addresses to five minutes and nomination address for vice president limited to ten minutes.

The actual selection of the winners will take place Thursday night. Under the rules of the convention the winners must have two-thirds of the ballots, a departure from the major party rules.

Nominations will be made upon the roll call of states which of course gives Alabama the first chance to present a candidate.

The names of eight candidates will be presented. They are Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Governor Earl Warren of California, General Douglas MacArthur of the United States army, U. S. Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania and Speaker of the House Joseph Martin of Massachusetts.

If publicity is any criterion of success, Harold Stassen seems to have the edge just now. Upon the campus, on the poles on the streets, in the Student Union building and in various other places are huge pictorial posters and appeal posters for the Minnesotan.

Some of the placards scattered over the boro read "You Are Voting History. Make It Big. Vote Stassen." "A Word To The Wise Is Sufficient. Vote Stassen." "This Is A Convention To Decide The Destiny Of Your Country. Vote Stassen." The convention hall will be the gymnasium and the decoration starts Tuesday morning. Flags and bunting and banners and all the other trappings of a political convention will be seen. The college band under Prof. Donald Cameron will provide the music for the convention and when the gavel falls Tuesday night at 8 o'clock a real convention will be under way, although actually it is a mock convention.

As to the winner of the presidential nomination? Thursday night there will be just one for the presidency, it is hoped, but today there are eight winners. To prove it we quote the pre-convention statements of backers of the various candidates.

Says Leroy Davis of Frederick, Md., a Stassen booster: "Stassen has youth, courage and vision. He has an exacting platform, a past record of achievement and offers this nation a program of hope and progress."

Says John Kretz of Pittsburgh, backing Vandenberg: "His record as a senator, his brilliance in foreign relations, and his broad grasp of international problems stamps him as the logical candidate."

Len Harding of Quincy, Mass., who is handling Speaker Joseph Martin's campaign: "As the speaker of the house he has proved himself an able administrator, as the leader of the minority he showed exceptional ability in dealing with men of various opinions. He is a down to earth American, the kind we need just now in the White House."

Dick Taylor of McKeesport, who is Senator Edward Martin's manager: "His record as a soldier in three wars gives him a knowledge of which we need, his record as a state official, as governor and as United States senator stand him out as the man to select."

Dale Johnson of Volant, manager for Senator Robert A. Taft: "He was born to government. His grandfather was secretary of war attorney-general, his father was president, chief justice of the Supreme Court and governor-general of the Philippines. Senator Taft himself has a record of sound statesmanship and equally sound Americanism. He should win."

Mark Gleeson, Ford City, speaking for Governor Thomas E. Dewey: "He has done every job given him and has done it well. He foresees the need for a United Nations, he predicted what would happen in the Palestinian situation. He has made a fine record as governor of New York. He is ready for the White House."

Frank Coffin, speaking for Governor Earl Warren: "Governor Warren has shown an unusual aptitude of getting along with both parties. Both parties nominated him for reelection to the term he is now serving. His election would guarantee the far west in the Republican column. He would make a fine president."

Michael Barone of Philadelphia, speaking for General MacArthur: "He is a soldier and represents the highest type of military man. His lifelong experience in dealing with foreign affairs makes him valuable at this time. His record as an administrator in Japan will go down in history as brilliant. He is the type of American we need desperately now. He has proved his ability."

So there it is. Eight candidates and eight sure winners. "You pay your money and you take your choice."

Junior Teams To Launch Tourney At "Y" Tonight

Three Battles In First Round

Hoyles-Oakland, Eagles-Leonhardt, Hicks-Rigby, Gus "Little Five" Olash

Basketball in Lawrence county sings its swan song starting tonight as the junior tourney for city-county honors begins at the Y. M. C. A. floor.

Three first-round contests will pit the Hoyles against the Oakland, the New Castle junior Eagles and the Leonhardt, Hicks-Rigby, Gus "Little Five" Olash. The first game will begin at 7:15. First round play will continue Wednesday night with the East Brook "Brookers" tangling with the V. F. W. the Sno-Tops going against the Mountaineers, and the Rick Panthers drawing the Titans. The first round will conclude Friday night, with the finale that evening opening the second round of play.

Jimmy Dart, "Y" physical director, who is operating the tourney, said today that the lineup of teams this year represents the cream of city talent in the younger age bracket and hot battles through the matches are assured.

"For race-horse basketball and a monopoly on thrills, these games usually surpass the senior tourney," said Dart. "The kids are all pepped up to win and strength is evenly divided over the field. We are looking for some real games before the tourney ends."

The "Y" gym, remodelled this winter, is in readiness for the crowds, and a larger seating capacity afforded will no doubt see plenty of fans wending their way to the association for the clashes.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

YEARS ago it was common to hear quail sing out "Bob White", but the sound has been missed during the past few years because of various reasons, but with the discovery of quail in Slippery Rock and Plainville townships, it is believed there is chance of quail making a comeback, if left undisturbed. Quail is known as the "farmer's friend", and farmers could do much toward helping the comeback if they would request, yes, warn hunters not to shoot quail. Quail travel through fields and thickets in search of insects, seeds and berries, and when alarmed, scatter. When one hears the call "Bob White", members of the flock find each other by it. They mate in pairs, nesting on the ground in search of grain or grass fields, usually close to a small bush or a stump for protection. Twelve to 20 pure white eggs are laid. At the approach of a human, the mother will flutter and limp away, as if injured, to attract attention from the young until they have had time to hide. The record cold winter of 1935-36, with its long-lying, deep snow spelled doom for almost all of this state's quail. Grain farming, practiced in the days when quail were numerous in Pennsylvania, has largely given way to livestock raising with its accompanying pastures, to potato, and tomato growing, and coal stripping, and to other practices that have removed much of the natural habitat and food for quail. Predacious birds and animals and heavy gun pressure have, done their share, until today, even with what stocking has been done by the game commission and sportsmen, these desirable little birds find it extremely difficult to stage a comeback. One way to help the comeback is to not shoot quail!

A two day practice and demonstration clinic in track and field events will be held at Penn State College, April 9 and 10. Among those who will assist Coach Chick Werner is Berney Elwell, long-time sprint star. Both Russ Baxter and Jack Biddle should be in the pink of condition for their April 14, return bout, the first having been won by Baxter on points. They have been fighting regularly. When they meet it will be a case of Baxter's right cross and Biddle's left hook. Both are capable of landing a knockout. However, to win Baxter will have to show more stuff than he did against Al Sayers at Ellwood City, when he ostensibly took things as easy as possible to conserve his hands for the Biddle bout. Lionel LaGrew will box Bobby Mason of Youngstown. The Cleveland boy is taught by Jimmy Dunn which is insurance against Lionel staging a drub due.

North County Loop Nixes Sunday Ball This Season

League Play Opens May 10; Seek One More Team To Make Lineup Of Eight

Sunday baseball was ruled out by the managers of the North County League teams at a regular meeting of the league Saturday night in New Castle when they voted to play all games on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings to make the loop a strictly twilight affair.

The six teams present at the meeting, over which Paul Sankey of New Bedford, league proxy, presided, included Eastbrook, Hickory, New Bedford, New Wilmington, Pulaski and Volant. These clubs have paid their initial franchise deposit of $25.

The league schedule officially opens Monday, May 10, although most of the nines will arrange several pre-season scrimmages before that date.

Need Eighth Team

A spokesman for a newly formed St. Mary's team was present to petition entrance into the league. Since it had been previously agreed that only an even number of teams would be admitted, St. Mary's has been accepted on the condition that an eighth team can be found. Any local nine interested in playing in the North County circuit are urged to notify Paul Sankey, New Bedford, or Carm DeLeon, West Washington street, New Castle.

A deadline for such an entry was set at April 17 the date of the next regular meeting of the League officials and managers.

Detroit Enters Final Play-Offs In Stanley Games

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The Detroit Red Wings today soared into the final-round play-offs with the Toronto Maple Leafs for professional hockey's coveted Stanley Cup, the equivalent of the ice sport world's championship.

The high flying Wings bowled over the New York Rangers 4 to 2 last night at Madison Square Garden to garner the National Hockey League's semi-final leg on the trophy and earn the right to meet Toronto in the final round.

Toronto had gained the final round by eliminating the Boston Bruins in their semi-final set-to.

Glassers Falter, Lose PIAA Final

Ford City High School's bid for the class "A" cage diadem of the state failed Saturday night as the Glassers lost to Norristown, 30-23.

Both quintets were away off their game and a tight, cautious defensive duel dominated until the final heat when the Easterners whipped in 14 points to win going away.

The Glassers' usual sharp hoop work was sadly off form both from the field and the free throw line. Ed Halas, Bellwether of the Forders' attack all season was held to one field goal and brace of fouls.

Falls Legion Enters Finals

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 5.—Beaver Falls American Legion has gained the final game of the national play-offs here, whipping the defending champs, Midland, Mich., Sunday afternoon, 33-31.

Veitri sparked the Fallsmen with 10 points.

HAMILTON REDS WIN

The Hamilton Reds defeated the Grant Street Blue Jays Saturday morning 8 to 4 with Kenny Thomas pitching a swell one-hitter, being very effective.

Cathedral Quartet To Sing; Arrange For 16 Sportsman's Exhibits

Officials of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association announced today that all plans are complete for the twenty-fifth banquet in the Cathedral, at 6:30 p. m., Thursday. They also reported that no tickets will be sold after tonight, and that unsold tickets will be collected Tuesday.

The officials announced that the Cathedral quartet has been procured for the dinner, and that 16 free exhibits of all kind of sportsman's equipment will be on display in the ballroom, which can be viewed before and after the dinner. It is one of the best displays ever arranged.

Horne 'Rocky' In No-Title Go

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—World Middleweight Boxing Champion Rocky Graziano will earn a dollar the hard way tonight when he meets George "Sonny" Horne of Valley Stream, N. Y., in a scheduled 10-round non-title fight at Uline Arena in Washington.

Graziano is donating his purse, 25 per cent of the gate, to the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation. He was paid a dollar for his services when he signed for the match.

Rocky has been idle since he won the championship from Tony Zale nine months ago. He is quoted as a 3-to-1 favorite.

Don Edmonds, former Indiana University fullback, has been named as end and wingback coach at Indiana.

Edge Legion Five, 51-45; Wings Defeat First U. P. Passers, 43-38

The Shenago Pottery team jumped off to a lead in the Civic-Industrial title series Saturday night, whipping the American Legion in the first of three games, 51-45.

Korab and Tanner showed the way for the winners, with Corvelli playing fine ball for the Legionnaires.

The two quintets will tangle again Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, and the Legion will be out to even the count. A Pottery win would sew up the championship for them.

In the prelim the Wings of the House league surprised the First U. P. passers, 43-38. Fair, with 16, sparked the House champs. Bob Jackson hit for 11 to be high for the Church leaguers.

JOE VERDEUR MAY BE ONE-MAN SWIM TEAM IN OLYMPIOS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 5.—(INS)—The United States appeared today to have a one-man Olympic swimming team in Joe Verdeur, Philadelphia's wonder man.

Verdeur clearly was the standout of the AAU championship meet this week-end. He shattered the world's record for the 220-yard breast-stroke with 2:30.5, won the 300-yard individual medley and swam well in the 300-yard medley relay.

Another star was Ohio State's brilliant Miller Anderson, war hero who won both the one-meter and three-meter dives. The Buckeyes won the team title, beating Michigan by 20 points.

Booster Club Meets Tonight

Ticket Sales For Testimonial Banquet Spurred By Optimist Club Action

The ticket sale by the Boosters Club for the big testimonial banquet for the New Castle Mid-Atlantic "Chiefs" at the Cathedral on Wednesday, April 21, has been spurred by the action of the Optimist Club at a recent meeting to attend the banquet in a body.

It is hoped that other civic and social clubs in the city will follow the lead of the Optimists, and help to make the banquet one of the finest of its kind ever held here. It is hoped to sell at least 1,000 tickets for the dinner and speaking program.

Meeting Tonight

Members of the Booster Club will meet again tonight at the Castleton Hotel to further plans for the banquet. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock. A full turnout is asked by President Richard E. Renz, as there is plenty of work for everybody in staging a banquet of this nature.

Nothing definite has been learned on the securing of a national speaker for the banquet, but several feelers have been sent to men prominent in the field of national sports.

Tickets have been distributed in every corner of Lawrence County. The tickets sell for $2.00.

Every man, woman and child in the county should get back of this gigantic undertaking and welcome the New Castle players on the night of April 21.

Move Over Ted, Boudreau Tries The 'Kiner Shift'

TUSCON, Ariz., April 5.—(INS)—Ted Williams has to move over today for Ralph Kiner. Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, yesterday introduced the "Kiner shift."

Boudreau is the fellow who first introduced the Williams shift which consists of three men playing on the right side of the infield for the left hand hitting Ted. The third baseman is the only man on the left side, and he plays where the shortstop normally does.

The outfielders all swing way around the right.

The Kiner shift is just the Williams shift in reverse as big Ralph is a right hand hitter. The Indians used it in the ninth inning when Kiner came up with a left hander on the mound. Ralph walked.

The Pirates won the game 5-2 behind some airtight pitching by Vic Lombardi. The watch charm lettie gave up just one hit in five innings.
